By PAUL RAMON USB drives is a popular and efficient way to store data, video, music and image files. They can be quickly cleared of data and store more information from CDs. If you want to move files from your PC to a USB drive, you can do so easily with a simple drag-and-drop method. Place your USB drive in an open USB port on your PC. Click the Start button at the bottom left of your computer's desktop and select my PC. On removable drive (E:) Double-click. Find the files on your computer that you want to move and open the window containing them. Drag and drop files or files to open removable drive (E:) Window. Safely remove the USB drive by clicking the USB icon in the lower right tray and choosing to safely remove the USB device. Carefully pull out the USB drive. The best free running apps do exactly what they say on the tin: they're free and help you run. It's nothing better, right? With more people than ever running in locks - and the fact that a couple of the most popular and previously free running apps are now charging for some of their services, finding a free alternative is a great way to keep on track. According to one report, we are not only doing more running, we are also talking about running more - in March, 34 million people discussed pounding sidewalk entertainment on social media and 207k sharing running statistics from sports programs - both figures that combined over January and February. The national lock forced us from the stadium to the garden, to the large outdoors, trying to find a way to stay active and fit - running, it seems, cakes taken in terms of accessibility and scalability. Thank you, run! But, you know how to run, how can you keep it? From motivational apps run walking to track trackers, AIDS navigation and wood miles, we rounded up 8 best free running apps to help you hit your next lead - including one that had a 92% jump in downloads in 2019. whoa , who Advertising -- continuing to read under 1 couch to 5k each from your dentist to your aunt seems to have the idea of doing couches to flirt 5k - a running scheme that gets beginner runners and never runs before runners are able to run a full 5k; and, according to the BBC, downloaded more than 858,0 programs (sponsored by NHS) between March and June. That's a massive 92% increase on the year before! The program has five different trainers to motivate you on your journey - as well as telling you when to run and when to walk - including comedian Sarah Millican, radio presenter Joe Whitley and Olympia's Michael Johnson. Wow the program can be redirected in 9 weeks or more if you wish and this app helps you keep going when stopping seems like the easiest option. There's a half-time bell for when you're halfway, so you know to turn around and complete the loop, before and after the ranking system to track your motivation as well as easy looking countdown So you always know how long each run is left. iOS/Android 2 Map Run Me Map Run Me, under the app running Armour, has myriad features of your running experience smoother than ever. It connects to numerous wearables -- including Apple Healthcare, Apple Watch, Garmin, Fitbit, Jawbone, and more -- meaning you can head only with your fitness tracker, safe in your stats knowledge still logging in. The app also offers real-time audio coaching runs on tracking GPS, with changeable sound for statistics such as speed, distance, and height. IOS/Android 3 Adidas Runtastic you may have adidas shoes running but have you ever tried your running app? Well, if you then lace up because there are so many cool features you need to take advantage of remote, time, speed, height and calorie tracking to voice feedback, targeted challenges and customizable targets. Oh, and they'll even go one step further, track you've run a few miles in your run shoes and let you know when it's a good time to start thinking about investing in a new pair. They're literally thinking about everything to adidas iOS/Android 4 Runkeeper Runkeeper by ASICS does a lot. It can track your runs, set targets to run more and faster, listen to audio stats telling you your speed, distance and time, look for a personal plan that keeps you improving and joining virtual challenges in the app. The best of a little? The app syncs with your wearables so you can leave your phone at home and head only with your Apple Watch and still track your stats. The iOS/Android 5 Nike Run Club Nike Run Club describes the app as its 'perfect running partner,' and TBH, we have to agree with them. Track and Shop runs in its easy to navigate super aesthetic program, make good use of GPS to keep you on track, listen to audio coaching and set weekly, monthly, or remotely customized challenges as well as talked coaching programs to make sure you keep banging your goals. While the trophies and badges you collect for new achievements may be virtual they still mean the world to us. Get out there! IOS/Android 6 running distance tracker + Slated is available as 'the most accurate running app' running distance tracker + track your speed, calories, heart rate, and of course, distance. Utilise GPS to find new running paths, take a look at your split time and speed as well as heart rate and trying areas and listen to customizable sound feedback to let you know how you're going. There are paid options within the app but the basics - and they are really the only ones you need - are free. That's the only thing that matters if iOS/Android 7 Endomondo if you want to sync with other apps, set goals to smash, take on challenges and socially with your fellow running mates. Endomondo may be the app for you. Featuring all classics: Tracking Performances, Audio Coaching, Practice Summary, Personal Notifications you can also add extra fun such as particularly good documentation (or (or Run with a photo, scroll through your friends' workouts and comment to keep them going! There is a premium option but everything we mentioned above is absolutely, completely free. Win. The IOS/Android 8 Run Trainer Run Trainer does what the tin says: it will give you trainers through and between your runs to give you a better runner. Tweak your app as your fitness improves, customize your app if you miss the run and need to modify your app, access new speeds and goals as your abilities increase, sync with your favorite wearables and make good use of the trainers at hand if you have any questions about nutrition or damage.
